Redefining Worklife

Let your productivity flow

Perform at your peak with a Fellowes monitor arm

At Fellowes, we believe that the personal pursuit of meaningful work requires a workspace that balances engineering excellence, responsive design and engaging aesthetics.

Monitor arms are one of the most direct and consequential interfaces of workspace comfort. Unfortunately, typical monitor arms are often cumbersome, unreliable, and lack the ergonomic flexibility required for a modern work environment. We saw an opportunity to reimagine monitor arms from the ground up, with dynamic elegance built into every component.

The result of that process is our Rising™ and Tallo™ ranges. Our most sophisticated monitor arms, expertly crafted to perform effortlessly.

A Fellowes monitor arm helps you accomplish tasks faster, easier and in heightened ergonomic comfort.

Allowing you to perform at your peak,
however you wish to work.

We are on pCon

Plan, design and visualise the perfect workspace.

Fellowes best selling products are now available across all pCon platforms, with a range of tools to seamlessly integrate our products into your next design project.
