FELLOWES TO SHOWCASE MONITOR ARM INNOVATIONS AT ORGATEC

Fellowes will be demonstrating how its monitor arms make the working day more comfortable and productive at this year's Orgatec.

Expert in ergonomic furniture solutions, Fellowes will be returning to the international trade fair to show how its award-winning innovative monitor arms help people perform at their peak.

Relieving neck pain in the workplace is a key concern for many people, with 48% of participants in one 2021 survey* saying this would make their workspace healthier for them. Fellowes monitor arms are designed to reduce the risk of neck pain and improve health in the workspace by helping people set their screen to exactly the right height and angle.

Among the products on show will be Fellowes new innovative monitor arm range Rising™. Rising™ offers unparalleled flexibility and adjustability. Its sophisticated design is perfectly suited to any aesthetic and workspace environment. It is available in a wide variety of finishes and custom colours.

Providing out of the box efficiency, Rising arms are quick to assemble in a variety of configurations with its convenient SnapKinect™ technology. Fellowes' tool free patented RotationStop™ feature makes it simple to set and adjust the arm to avoid collisions with desks, walls or partitions.

Also on display will be the Red Dot design award-winning Tallo™ range. The Tallo range provides perfect harmony through dynamic design and ergonomic excellence, allowing users to seamlessly align multiple monitors with its unique slider design.

Tallo offers effortless gas spring finger touch adjustment with 180° lock out feature to make monitor repositioning simple. Tallo can be upgraded with the USB and Qi charging Flexcharge hub to make staying connected effortless.

Louise Shipley, European Manager for Workspace Management/Furniture at Fellowes, comments: "We're delighted to be returning to Orgatec in 2022 to showcase our ergonomic solutions and demonstrate how our innovative monitor arm ranges help create heightened ergonomic comfort in any workspace. We are sure this year's event will be better than ever and are looking forward to welcoming visitors to our stand across the five days."
